

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOL:

Kings Langley Concerts

The Kings Langley Concerts opened the year with a first class performance by 2 consummate professionals, Julian Rolton and Martin Outram. They played works for viola and piano by Berkeley, Arnold, Delius and Ireland, prior to their recording of a disc for Naxos. Why go to London when you can come here to hear music of this astonishing standard?! Robin Cook

Parent Orientation Morning

This annual event was well attended and led to many interesting discussions about why we do what we do. Although organised for new parents, this occasion is not limited to only those new to the school and we would warmly encourage any of our parents to come and hear more at the next Parent Orientation morning.

Open Day

This event was well attended by over 50 families and we are very grateful for the obvious interest that is being shown in our school and Waldorf education in general.

A big thank you to everyone who made these events such a wonderful success. Robin Cook

Parent Seminar

Tuesday evening saw the 1st of this year's Parent Seminars which started with some singing by the talented Julian Rolton and was followed by an insightful and inspiring talk by the wonderful Nick Thomas, who introduced Anthroposophy as a path of knowledge for humanity. We look forward to this year's series of parent seminars continuing next month. More details to follow shortly.
